An exciting and fun opportunity for an intensive treatment experience for children 9 to 12 years old who stutter.

The program will focus on helping children develop positive attitudes about communication and themselves in order to support the physical changes (fluency) that occur as a result of therapy.

Parents will learn how to support their children as they become confident communicators.

Follow-up group and individual sessions will be available since ongoing effort and commitment are necessary to maintain new speech patterns and attitudes.
